ChenRagen, LLC has been sourcing stone and other traditional building materials for over a decade. Our founding charter directs us to provide:

1. Natural / traditional materials that resonate with human culture and do not add to the waste stream.
2. Traditional hand production to preserve rare skills and maximize employment of talented artisans who directly contribute to community development.
3. A solidly anchored, bicultural bridge for deep and meaningful exchange between East and West.
4. Art & Culture: a sense of joy and camaraderie with all who join in our journeys of discovery.

ChenRagen is a bicultural bridge of American and Chinese partnerships. We are a resource for landscape and design trades. We focus on custom production. Passionate about our materials, we care committed to provide quality that will exceed your expectations.
